

Fundamental Democratic Principles:

The Union must be preserved—Jackson.

That government is best which governs least.—Madison.

Governments are founded and laws enacted for the purpose of protecting the honest, the weak, the just; punishing the guilty and rewarding the meritorious.—Jefferson.

No encroachments upon, or interference with the affairs of the people of the North American continent by any foreign power. Kings, Emperor, Prince, or potentate.—Monroe.

The largest liberty of the greatest number of persons, providing they do not encroach upon the rights of a minority.—Calhoun.

The people of every State, as well as of every territory, have the right to regulate their own domestic affairs in their own way—subject, however, to the provisions of the constitution of the United States.—Douglass.

The right of trial by jury, the habeas corpus, the liberty of the press, the freedom of speech, the natural rights of persons and the rights of property must be protected.—Winfield Scott Hancock.

If The Eckert Mills are kept so busy they have to run night and day.

A LECTURE

To Young Men.

Just published, in a sealed envelope. Price six cents. A Lecture on the Treatment and Radical Cure of Seminal Weakness, or SPERMATORRHEA, induced by self-abuse, Inflammatory Seminal Losses, Impotence, Nervous Debility, and Impairments to Marriage generally; Concretions, Excretions, and First Mental and Physical Impairments, etc., by ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The well-known author, in this admirable Lecture clearly demonstrates, from his own experience, that the awful consequences of self-abuse to the male can easily be avoided without danger or surgical operation. Impairments to marriage generally, impotency, etc., are the result of self-abuse, no matter what his condition may be, may even himself completely conquer, and rapidly.

This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Send, undressed, in plain envelope, twenty additional post-paid, on receipt of six cents, or 10¢ postage stamps.

Address the Publisher,
